Position Description:

In-house staff (2 adult staff + 1 alumni intern per week) are the primary caretakers of Kismet students when they are not at the cliff. Staff members must have supreme leadership, mentorship, and group management skills in order to help nurture students during their time in the Kismet House. This is largely done during the hours of 3pm-9am since students spend most of each day climbing at the cliff or in the gym. House staff are not expected to stay up all night, but are expected to commit their full assigned week/s towards Kismet and prioritize the students and program during that time.

This is an opportunity for deeply meaningful and community oriented work. Kismet students often express how their experience in the program dramatically improved their sense of self-esteem and world view. We are seeking highly motivated and empathetic caregivers to assist in our mission to create a network of love and support for a diverse population of vulnerable students.
